

Internship at Grenzebach Corporation in Newnan

The Grenzebach Group is a leading global mechanical and electrical equipment manufacturing company with more than 1500 employees worldwide. The Grenzebach brand stands for high quality in processing line construction and in the automation of production processes in the flat glass and building materials industries.

For more information visit: www.grenzebach.com

Our U.S. subsidiary in Newnan, GA, is currently seeking an intern in computer science starting in August 2010. This internship will be for a minimum of four months.

Intern (m/f) in computer science

You will support our IT-Manager in the following fields of activity:

- User support
- Server administration
- Networkadministration
- ERP-Systemsupport

Moreover, you will work on practical tasks and you will support our teams with the processing of current projects.

You have started your studies in computer science and you have knowledge in administration of networks (Windows, Linux) as well as ERP-basics. Furthermore, you are able to deal with the MS Office Package and any kind of server applications of Microsoft and you have the ability to work independently as well as in a team.

We offer the possibility to work on a variety of projects so that you can improve your practical knowledge.

Please apply via email at

Grenzebach Corporation
Human Resources, Julia Schulze
10 Herring Road
Newnan, Georgia 30265
USA
julia.schulze@grenzebach.com